University Officers' Biographical Notes

Chancellor

Mrs Caroline Bennett BSc Otago BEd DipEd MEd BEdAdmin Massey

Newly-appointed in 1998 as the Chancellor of Waikato University, Mrs Caroline Bennett has had a long association with education. After gaining her BSc at Otago University, she went on to earn her Diploma of Education, Bachelor of Education and Master of Education Administration at Massey University. Mrs Bennett has taught for just under a decade at Fairfield College, serving as Deputy Principal from 1989 to 1995, and Principal from 1995 to the present day. Her official association with Waikato University began in 1991 when she served as a member of the University Council, representing the Court of Convocation, and the Board of Trustees and Secondary Schools in the catchment area of Waikato University. Mrs Bennett was appointed Pro-Chancellor in 1992, a position she held for six years before becoming Chancellor in 1998. As well as her educational achievements, Mrs Bennett was the Dame Jean Herbesian Fellow in 1992, and the Honorary Fellow of the New Zealand Educational Administration Society in 1996.

Pro-Chancellor

Mr John Gallagher, JP

As a business leader John Gallagher brings a wealth of business and community experience to the University Council. Currently he is Deputy Mayor and a shareholder and Director of one of New Zealand's most successful export companies, the Gallagher Group. As an ardent supporter of growth and development in the community, John is actively involved with numerous community organisations including Habitat for Humanity, Rotary and St John's Ambulance. He became the Deputy Mayor of Hamilton City in mid-1997 after twelve years as a city councillor. As a local body politician he has been instrumental in promoting and driving many of the City facilities and services. John was first elected to the University Council in 1990 as the representative from the Employers' Association and is currently a member of the Finance Committee and a Trustee of the University of Waikato Foundation.

Vice-Chancellor

Professor Bryan Gould BA LLM Auck MA BCL Oxf

It has been a long and winding road for the Hawera-born Bryan Charles Gould, one that has led him from Auckland and Victoria Universities, through to Oxford University on a Rhodes Scholarship, then to the British Labour Party, Member of Parliament, director of the Labour general election campaign in 1987, and ultimately back to New Zealand, where he currently holds the position of Vice-Chancellor at Waikato University. After attending primary and secondary school in Palmerston North and Dannevirke, Professor Gould went on to take a double BA/LLB at Auckland and Victoria Universities, majoring in history for his Bachelor of Arts. In 1962 he took up a Rhodes Scholarship to Balliol College, Oxford, taking out his BCL(Oxon) with First Class Honours in 1964, and finally his MA in 1968. During this time he worked for the British Foreign Office, including some time as second secretary at the British Embassy in Brussels. Following a period as a Tutor and Fellow in Law at Worcester College, Oxford, Professor Gould entered politics in 1974, working for three years as the Parliamentary Private Secretary to the Rt. Hon. Peter Shore MP. A stint as a reporter and presenter on a Thames Television nationally networked current affairs show followed from 1979 to 1983, before entering politics again. This involved some ten years in the British Labour Party in various roles, including Shadow Trade and Industry Secretary, Shadow Environment Secretary and the Labour Party election campaign director for both the Euro-Elections in 1989 and General Elections in 1987 and 1992. Professor Gould has been the author of numerous publications, including Socialism and Freedom, A Future for Socialism, and the autobiographical Goodbye to All That in 1995. As a former university representative in various sports, Professor Gould retains an interest in tennis and swimming, as well as cooking, wine, gardening, music and New Zealand history.

Deputy Vice-Chancellor

Professor M J Selby MA DipEd DSc Oxf DPhil Waikato

Professor Selby joined the staff of the newly-established University of Waikato in 1964. He was appointed to the Department of Earth Sciences in 1970, when the School of Science was established, and to a personal chair in Earth Sciences in 1980. Professor Selby's main academic interests have been in engineering geology, soil erosion control and the application of rock mechanics to the studies of the stability of hillslopes; these interests have led him to undertake field work in the hot deserts of Africa - the Sahara and Namib - the cold desert of Antarctica, and in the high mountains of the Himalaya and Andes. His research has been summarised in his book Hillslope Materials and Processes (Oxford University Press).

Since 1986 Professor Selby has been Deputy Vice-Chancellor with particular responsibility for research policy and commercialisation of applied research.

Assistant Vice-Chancellor

Mr J J Callaghan BA York (UK) MA R'dg

Jeremy Callaghan is Assistant Vice-Chancellor at the University of Waikato. He was appointed Registrar in 1988, assuming his new role in 1994. Previous positions include appointments as Assistant Registrar at the University of Salford, UK; Graduate Assistant at the University of Sydney, Australia; Senior Assistant Registrar at the Papua New Guinea University of Technology and Senior Assistant Academic Secretary at the City Polytechnic of Hong Kong. He holds the degrees of Bachelor of Arts from the University of York and Master of Arts from the University of Reading.

He has recently returned from a period of special leave spent as an Honorary Visiting Fellow at the University of York in the United Kingdom where, amongst other things, he completed the draft of a short book on committee servicing.

Jeremy is married with two young children and lists his interests as squash, acting and vintage cars.

Dean of Computing and Mathematical Sciences

Professor Ian Graham BSc Lond PhD Camb

Professor Ian Graham took up his position of Dean of Computing and Mathematical Science in 1990, the same year as the School moved into the new, purpose-built premises in G Block. Prior to his appointment as Dean, Professor Graham held the position of Chair of the Computer Sciences Programme, a post he gained within a few months of arriving at the University of Waikato in 1986. After gaining his first degree at St Mary's College, London, Professor Graham went on to take his second degree at Cambridge University, majoring in astronomy, where he was part of the Radio Astronomy group. Following a period of three years in Germany, where he studied Archaeological Science, Professor Graham returned to London where he taught at the Institute of Archaeology, teaching quantitative methods to archaeologists. Professor Graham is currently involved in a project which involves measuring the performance of communications networks, the findings of which will benefit Internet and other communication consumers in New Zealand and around the world.

Principal and Dean of Education

Professor Noeline Alcorn BA Well MA Cant PhD Calif DipEd Massey DipT

Professor Noeline Alcorn taught in New Zealand secondary schools for some years before undertaking her doctoral study at the University of California. She held lecturing and management positions at Auckland Teachers' College and was the Director of the Centre for Continuing Education at the University of Auckland before taking up her current position as Principal and Dean at the School of Education. Professor Alcorn was Chairperson of the New Zealand Council for Educational Research from 1988 until 1993, and was awarded the Suffrage Medal in 1993. She is a Fellow of the New Zealand Educational Administration Society. Professor Alcorn has published widely in children's literature, school principalship and action research, and is currently researching educational administration, professional development and higher education policy. She recently completed a biography of C.E. Beeby.

Dean of Humanities

Professor Peter Oettli BA NZ MA PhD Auck

Born in Switzerland, Professor Peter Oettli emigrated to New Zealand in his teens, attending Hamilton Boys' High School to learn English. Professor Oettli went on to Auckland University (known then as the Auckland University College of the University of New Zealand) to study for his BA degree. He attained both his MA and PhD at what had become, in the meantime, the University of Auckland, specialising in German mediaeval literature. In 1965/66, Professor Oettli spent a year in Germany as a Humboldt Fellow, researching his field of interest, before joining Waikato University in 1966. He was made Dean of Humanities in 1992. As well as teaching selected mediaeval German papers, Professor Oettli is currently involved in writing a book about Johann Friedrich Riemenschneider (1817-1866), a German missionary who came to New Zealand in 1843 and was active in Taranaki and Otago.

Dean of Law

Professor Margaret Bedggood QSO MA NZ and Lond LLB Otago

Professor Bedggood took up the position of Dean of the School of Law at Waikato University in August of 1994. She gained her Master of Arts in New Zealand and London, and her LLB at Otago University. Prior to taking up her appointment as Dean, Professor Bedggood was the Chief Human Rights Commissioner for five years. Professor Bedggood's research interests include employment law and all aspects of human rights law, both at a national and international level.

Dean of Management

Professor Michael Pratt BA Sbeff MCom Witw DCom SA ACA FCA

A specialist in the areas of management accounting, auditing and leadership, Professor Michael Pratt joined Waikato University in 1990 as Dean of the School of Management and Professor of Accounting and Finance. With extensive industry experience - having worked as an auditor for an international accounting practice in London, an accountant in the motor industry, and as a management consultant - Professor Pratt is also currently involved with investigating the practices of peak performing organisations and the underlying factors behind the corporate failures following the 1987 Stock Exchange crash. Professor Pratt has taught on several different MBA programmes internationally and has delivered more than one hundred management development seminars on a wide range of subjects. He gained his doctorate in Financial Planning Models from the University of South Africa.

Dean of Māori and Pacific Development

Professor Tamati Reedy MA Auck MA PhD Hawaii

Professor Reedy is the foundation Dean and Professor of the new School of Māori and Pacific Development at the University of Waikato, created in 1996. Professor Reedy gained his MA (Hons) in English at Auckland University, and an MA and Doctorate of Philosophy in Linguistics at the University of Hawaii. He was also a Fulbright Scholar at the University of Alabama. Prior to his appointment as Dean in 1996, Professor Reedy was the Chief Executive and Secretary for the Māori Affairs Department, New Zealand. With his wife Tilly, he has managed his own consultancy business in education and training in the public and private sector.

Dean of Science and Technology

Professor Richard Price BSc (Hons) ANU PhD Otago

Professor Richard Price joined the University of Waikato in 1998 as the new Dean of the School of Science and Technology, taking over from Professor Ken Mackay. Formerly an Associate Professor in Geology at La Trobe University, Professor Price gained his bachelors degree in science from Australian National University, and was awarded his doctorate from Otago University in 1974. His major research interests include the application of trace element, major element and isotope geochemistry to geological problems throughout Australia, New Zealand and the Pacific. With a distinguished academic and publishing record to his credit, Professor Price is currently involved in a co-operative research project with academic colleagues from Auckland, Victoria and Massey Universities, studying the geology of Mounts Ruapehu and Taranaki.

Dean of Social Sciences

Professor Peggy G Koopman-Boyden CNZM MA DipEd Massey

Professor Peggy Koopman-Boyden has undertaken sociological, demographic and policy research on ageing, and has chaired or has been a member of many national committees on social policy, family, women and the elderly. These include the New Zealand Planning Council, National Council on HIV/AIDs, and the Gerontology Association. She is a Life Member of Age Concern (Canterbury) and was awarded a CNZM (Companion of the NZ Order of Merit) for services to the elderly.

Biographical Notes

Master of Business Administration (Executive)

PAULA BAKER

After two years of hard work, it's a great feeling to have completed an MBA! As well as the academic challenge of the programme, the discussion and debate in class added to the learnings gained over the two years and were an invaluable experience that will be missed. I'm sure we will all keep in touch.

ROBERT LEWIS BUCHANAN

I am a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants qualifying in 1986. The Waikato University Executive MBA has updated my qualifications, giving me the skills to achieve in the 21st Century. I would like to thank my class members and lecturers for their support.

PHILIP CANNISH

As a senior executive in the health sector, who left school with few qualifications, the Waikato EMBA has given me new frames of reference and increased confidence in my intellectual capacity and ability. This new-found confidence is assisting me in building my contribution to the significant change processes health is undergoing.

ROBERT NELSON COOK

The programme has helped me put an academic framework around many of life's experiences and provided me with some useful tools and approaches for increasing wealth as my working environment changes.

TROY FISHER

I undertook my MBA to assist in my transition from the public to the private sector. I am now enjoying my new career in Operations Management and look forward to a promising future for myself and family.

ALAN HEWITT

Completing the Waikato MBA has added a new dimension to my personal goals and work horizons. During the Programme I have enjoyed working with a diverse group of people who are both talented and ambitious.

JAN HEWITT

I am a registered nurse who decided to expand my skills and move into management. The Executive MBA provides a strong foundation of leadership and management skills to meet the challenges of the future with confidence.

RUDI HUIJSMANS

I am the Managing Director of Noesis, an Auckland-based consulting company. The MBA programme has given me the framework to take me and my company into the future. Although the costs for achieving this have been high at the family level as well as at the business level I believe both will benefit in the end.

E.D. (EDDIE) JACKSON

I have been a senior manager for St John's Ambulance for a number of years. The MBA has expanded my horizons in a number of disciplines - essential if I am to be effective in the ever more competitive marketplace. I am also now enjoying the time with family and friends and the opportunity to take up some sporting activities.

BRUCE KEELEY

The completion of the Waikato Executive MBA is gratifying both for the business skills and the personal achievement. It has developed my confidence levels and complements my undergraduate study some years ago. Onwards and upwards we go!

HEATHER MACKIE

I work as an Area Manager with Community Probation. The MBA has helped me develop my thinking and my skills to manage better in the complex and changing environment of public sector operations.

TONY McKENNA

My career has been mainly in education. I have found doing the MBA has opened up a range of new ideas and opportunities. I intend to use these in whatever new directions my career takes.

RUTH McMONAGLE

Achieving my MBA closes twelve years of part-time education and I am looking forward to a break from study. The MBA is a result of the support and encouragement from my husband, our families and especially the staff at Benchmark Building Supplies. The MBA has provided stretch to my horizons, which now include a more global frame of reference.

RAY MILNER

After several years as Engineering Manager for electricity utility companies I felt the need to increase my skills and utility. I believe that the MBA has helped me to achieve this, and helped me gain a lot of good friends along the way.

STEPHEN MURRAY

My MBA has enabled me to advance my career, providing a rapid promotion moving from New Zealand to Australia. I now currently hold the position of National Manager Strategic Planning for Ansett Australia Air Freight.

CHRIS PEARSON

I have worked in the aviation industry for the past twenty-two years, starting as an aircraft engineer. I spent two years contracting to Oman Aviation in mid-1980 before returning to a planning role within engineering. The past five years have been various management roles outside engineering and I hope my MBA will enhance my future opportunities with Air NZ.

RAY PITCH

Working as a freelance business consultant and lecturer (that IS with a T not an H!) to pay for my addictions to Triathlons (yes, you can work, study, run, bike and swim and still find time to sleep), I undertook the MBA to lay a few ghosts and "what might have been", but what a wonderful journey those two years were - I'm looking forward to the next challenge. Some sage once wrote, "A mind once expanded by new ideas can never regain its former dimensions". I hope my trencher fits! Kia Kaha, the class of '98 (sorry Alison!).

SHARON SHIPTON

Kia Ora. I am the General Manager of the Midland Region of IHC. After two years of juggling motherhood, marriage, full-time work and study, the MBA is a significant achievement and complements a management career spanning twenty years. The learning experience I am confident will continue to enhance my management and leadership expertise.

TEWAI SKIPWITH-HALATAU

I am of Te Arawa Iwi, Tuhourangi hapu (subtribe). I am adding the MBA to my Diploma in Applied Social Studies.

TIM SULLIVAN

The "University of Life" has taught me well but the learning and experience gained through my Executive MBA study has been enlightening. To my fellow members of the "Class of 98" and to the academic staff I extend my thanks for a magic two years which would not have been possible without the support of my family.

ALISON THOM

I am a social worker by profession and currently the Director of a community-based treatment programme for sex offenders - SAFE Network. Despite its commercial focus the MBA has provided me with a wealth of skills and confidence to progress and lead within the non-profit sector.

DAVID WALMSELY

I am principal of the Church College of New Zealand. Participation in the Waikato MBA programme has enlarged my vision and equipped me with a broader range of tools to assist in my responsibilities as a leader and manager in the education sector.

PETER FAIRLEIGH WARU

Kia Ora. I took the long road home and had an extra year in between. The time between was crucial for me and I thank the University for their patience and support. With gaining my MBA I have now looked to broaden my work skills and experience. I started the MBA working with community health development and now have ventured into the world of crime prevention. The MBA has opened many options for the future. I look forward to spending more time with friends and family.

JASON WOON

I am an engineer by training. I found the MBA both interesting and educational. I'm sure the knowledge I've gained will complement my technical skills.

Biographical Notes

Master of Business Administration (International)

AKIL AHMAD

The MBA, combined with my previous education and experience, provides me with a strong foundation to pursue advanced study and widens the scope of working in the real business field. Thanks Waikato University Executive Education Department for giving me the opportunity to earn such an intensive, intellectual and sophisticated degree.

SAAD ALKHAWAJA

Prior to achieving my MBA I worked for Merck Sharp and Dohme International Pharmaceutical Company for the past twelve years in sales, marketing, customer services and MIS departments. With gaining the MBA I hope to broaden my work skills and to add more value to the work place. My plan is to rejoin Merck before the end of 1998 in a new field position.

PETER DAVISON

Whilst the Waikato MBA provided many challenges, the rewards have been extremely worthwhile, with both academic and practical skills learnt, and academic knowledge obtained. Additionally, many strong friendships were made. These ingredients obtained from the programme have enabled my career to progress with a diverse and constantly-evolving business environment. The Waikato MBA has certainly been a milestone in my professional life.

SHANTI JOSEPH

I have built upon my accounting background. The International MBA has provided an excellent managerial framework for understanding and coping with the complex and rapidly-changing business world. Looking forward to enjoying a more normal life with family and friends.

MATEWIKI KAREHANA

This has been a challenging year but as the saying goes "No pain no gain." I have gained a lot more confidence and knowledge through this course, in particular in the areas of business.

NANCY PARAKEHE NANKIVELL

Kia Ora. It's been a tough year for my whanau. But now I'm the proud recipient of the University of Waikato MBA. My knowledge has increased ten-fold during this period and so have my future options.

ANIL PRAKASH

Having worked in the accounting and management fields for the last twenty years, I found the International MBA programme refreshing. It gives me an added advantage in pursuing future opportunities.

GINA QIN LIU

I am very proud that I have my MBA. I enjoyed doing my Waikato MBA very much, it was a huge challenge to me. I believe that "knock and the door will open" and "nothing is impossible". Good luck to everybody and myself.

JAYACHANDRAN RAMASAMY

I am a New Zealand Permanent Resident from India with previous tertiary qualifications in science and a long career in agricultural research. I chose the International MBA to acquire administrative and managerial skills which are very much needed to function in senior positions. The MBA has been an exacting and exciting experience. It tested my nerve every bit, but it was worth it.

JABIN SHRESTHA

After B.E. in Mechanical Engineering, Diploma in Export, marketing and years of work in these two fields, I needed a New Zealand-based study programme which could help the smooth transition to the New Zealand work force. The Waikato IMBA has provided the opportunity to expose myself to a wide variety of management theories and practices in the international business arena.

SHANK WALSH

The turmoil is now over and I am a proud recipient of the International MBA. The value came both in the form of education received from the University but also from contact with fellow students. I am now in Singapore working for a Danish multinational as International Operations Director.

ROY WATERSON

I took up the IMBA study after retiring from ten years as CEO of a Business Development Board. Previously I had enjoyed a career as a divisional director in the public sector and as a proprietor/manager of a transport company and market garden. I found the MBA year enjoyable, especially the team work with people from many countries. I plan to use the experience to enhance the voluntary work that I have been doing for many years, helping people with disabilities.

KARL WRIGHT

I believe that life is essentially about our collective experiences and what we learn from them. The MBA has been a particularly meaningful journey from which I have drawn the required insight for a new life in New Zealand. I am deeply indebted to all those who have contributed to the richness of this journey.

BRIAN BELL

The Diploma in Management Studies was my first experience of a university-level programme. I was so encouraged that what I learned could be applied to my job as National Sales Manager for Alfa Laval Agriculture. I have now started the Executive MBA programme.

Biographical Notes

Diploma in Management Studies

DONNA LEWIN

I am a perpetual student of life. During my twenty years of work in the health sector I have gained qualifications in nursing and psychology. Achieving the Diploma in Management Studies has allowed me to transfer my skills and experience and smoothly change my career path to local government.

MIN MARSHALL

The Diploma in Management Studies was an excellent bridging study towards the MBA, which I'm currently enrolled in. The programme's structure was such that I was able to apply learned theories instantaneously in any role as manager.

KOTENE HURAE PIHEMA

Kotene Hurae Pihema, tribal affiliation Ngati-Whatua and Ngati-Ranginui.

DIANNE PATRICIA TARRANT

I am currently employed at Health Waikato as Co-ordinator of Psychosocial Rehabilitation in mental health. I undertook this diploma to further my career opportunities for management.

Diploma in Personal Financial Planning

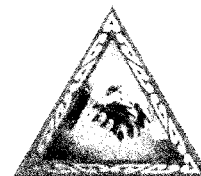

DAVE SHATFORD

I have been working as Investment Adviser for ANZ for the last five years, and prior to this I was Marketing Manager for ANZ's Investment Products. The Diploma in Personal Financial Planning has provided me with an in-depth insight into the personal finance area and increased my ability to add value to clients' investment decisions.

To those attending in support of a graduate...

The completion of a qualification is an outstanding achievement. For the graduates, it's the culmination of a major undertaking. Congratulations are in order, but not just for those who graduate. Congratulations are also due to the many people who have supported the students throughout their journey, and who now take pride and pleasure in their success.

As the celebrations get under way, and graduates think of employment, or prepare for the next adventure, or contemplate another year's study, you may well be looking on with pride at what someone special has achieved. For you it is a chance to remember your part in this significant educational achievement. You may well remember the decision to enrol at the University of Waikato, discussions about which courses to undertake, long late nights, financial commitments made, sacrifices shared, hopes and dreams that have now come to fruition. As you remember the past, and celebrate what has been achieved, we invite you to think also of the future.

The University of Waikato Foundation is working to strengthen the University and, thereby, the value of the qualifications it awards. The Foundation is now preparing a Campaign to raise funds for the University - The Campaign for Waikato. Projects include:

- An Academy of Performing Arts, with a 350-seat music auditorium, 150-seat drama theatre, 100-seat dance studio and large Maori performing arts room, as well as rehearsal facilities and offices for staff. The Academy will be used extensively by the wider community.
- The provision of new scholarships and fellowships to help students with their studies and research.
- Extensions to the University Rec. Centre, including a new multi-purpose activities room and extensions to the weights room and circuit training area.
- Bursaries for students in crisis.
- Enhanced facilities for students with disabilities.
- The establishment of a Centre for Community Studies, to study Philanthropy, Not-for-Profit Management and Marketing and Fundraising in the New Zealand context.
- Support for the newly established International Global Change Institute.

A booklet outlining details of the Campaign is available on request.

It may be that you would like to contribute to The Campaign for Waikato, and if so we'd be delighted. You have the opportunity to contribute to the future of an institution which has, we hope, served you well and which now seeks the added strength to do even better in the future. You can nominate the project you wish to support, and every contribution over $5 is tax deductible.

Contributions can be sent to The Campaign for Waikato, The University of Waikato Foundation, Private Bag 3105, Hamilton. A receipt will be sent so do remember to enclose your return address.

THE CAMPAIGN FOR WAIKATO

DAME MALVINA MAJOR

Adjunct Professor, Academy of Performing Arts
Patron of the University of Waikato

Increasingly the University of Waikato is a source of inspiration and innovation - and it is planning for the future. For instance, the Academy of Performing Arts is a very exciting concept. It is essential that artists learn more than just their specific specialist skill; integrated study and a knowledge of related disciplines is vital.

The Academy could become the pre-eminent performing arts training centre in the country, and with an international reputation.

I intend taking a personal interest in the Academy of Performing Arts, and I hope to play my part in its future.
